

Curriculum Vitae – Prof. Dr. Clemens Cyran

Clemens C. Cyran, MD is Professor of Radiology, Section Chief Hybrid and Molecular Imaging and Member of the department directorium at the Department of Radiology, Ludwig-Maximilians-University Munich, Germany. After graduation from Medical School in Munich, Prof. Cyran assumed a position as postdoctoral research fellow at the Center for Pharmaceutical and Molecular Imaging, University of California San Francisco, from 2006 to 2007 with a research focus on imaging biomarkers of therapy response in experimental oncology. Prof. Cyran completed his residency in radiology in Munich in 2013 and is also board certified in diagnostic nuclear medicine. The research focus of the Laboratory of Experimental Radiology headed by Prof. Cyran is the development and validation of imaging biomarkers of therapy response in oncology using multimodality hybrid imaging methods, including MRI, multi tracer PET and optical fluorescence imaging, with a strong translational focus. Prof. Cyran is heading the Subcommittee for Hybrid, Molecular and Translational Imaging at the European Congress of Radiology 2019.
